

Senate Group Decrees Duel of Air Missiles To Settle Army-AF War Over Appropriations

Future Cash to Depend on Performance

Showdown Sought On Which Can Best Defend U.S. Cities

WASHINGTON — A Senate subcommittee will call for a showdown duel between the Army's Nike and the Air Force's Talos, both antiaircraft missiles, before authorizing further money for either.

The two missiles have become a source of bitter interservice controversy. The Army has accused the Air Force of trying to invade its antiaircraft mission by developing the Talos to do the same job as the Nike.

Nike installations already have been set up to provide antiaircraft protection for a number of cities. The Air Force wants to install the Talos system around some of its bases.

Senators in the Senate Armed Services Subcommittee on Military Construction, who have heard top secret briefings on the two missiles, tend to look upon them as competing systems.

A subcommittee member said today the group is drafting a demand that a duel against modern jet bombers be staged by the two missiles to determine which is the more effective antiaircraft weapon. The subcommittee's demand will be included in its report on the military construction program to be issued in the next few weeks.

The subcommittee members take the position there is no point spending billions of dollars expanding the Nike system if Talos is a better weapon or providing more funds for Talos if Nike is sufficient. The subcommittee's demand also will be designed to force a showdown in the Defense Department on which service should have the mission of antiaircraft defense.

Good Turnout Opens School Board Voting

A "good vote" was recorded by the three precincts in the race for member of the board of Education which is under way in the Palm Springs Unified School district today.

Out of 5,987 registered voters within the district, a total of 328 had cast their ballots by noon today. Voting normally is very light in first hours of the balloting.

Seven men are running for the position vacated by Dr. Hugh Stephens.

Leading in the number of votes cast was the city of Palm Springs precinct at Frances Stevens school with 265. Cathedral City precinct, which includes parts of the communities of Rancho Mirage and Palm Desert and all of Thousand Palms, had recorded 43 votes at noon, and Desert Hot Springs precinct had tallied a total of 20.

Eight names appear on the ballot, but Leo Athens has withdrawn from the race, and election officials said that by the name appearing on the ballot, there is a probability of the vote being split even more than it will be with just seven candidates.

Polls will be open today until 7 p.m.

No candidates have decreed "an issue" in this election, although observers from the outlying communities and Palm Springs itself, proclaim that important issues are at stake.

SHORTER THAN SHORT

SHORTS

Your columnist tries to master the shorter than short school of journalism, I have to make them short. I knew it was hard but thought it was because I was dumb.

Today my "three dollar shears" found this—Horace Greeley, when asked to write a short article on a certain subject, replied, "I haven't time, but I will write you a long one."

DARN NEAR MISS 'EM
A big buck Indian had just ordered a ham sandwich at a drug store and was peering between the slices of bread when he turned and said to the waiter: "Ugh, you slice 'em ham?" The waiter replied: "Yes, E sliced the ham." The Indian replied: "Yes I sliced the ham." "You darn near miss 'em."

THE WEATHER
Desert area forecast: Considerable cloudiness today and tonight with scattered thundershowers. Sunny Saturday. A little warmer north portion Saturday. Highs today 85-95 upper valleys, 95-105 lower valleys. High here yesterday 102, low 60.

Blast Shatters $4,000,000 Brewery Unit

1 Killed, 1 Injured As 14-Story Building Is Rocked

MONTREAL — An explosion early today shattered the $4 million cooling plant of Molson's brewery. One man was killed and another injured.

Company officials said the blast apparently was caused by an ammonia leak. It wrecked the 14-story plant near the waterfront, blowing out its east wall and leaving big holes in three others.

The dead man was identified as Paul Cheess, who was in charge of the plant.

Interest Mounts in Selection of Village Beauty

Interest in the search for the girl who will represent Palm Springs in the Miss Universe Contest at Long Beach is mounting following the first elimination contest held Tuesday.

The remaining three elimination contests will be held on Thursdays: May 24, May 31 and June 7. The winners of these contests will appear in the finals June 14 when Miss Palm Springs of 1957 will be chosen to represent Palm Springs at Hollywood.

In the cinema capital she will compete with girls from many parts of California for the title of Miss California and if she is declared the winner will go on to Long Beach where the Miss Universe contest is held.

In the meantime all of the girls who came in second, third or competed are invited to compete again in the elimination contests. New judges, five of them, may have a different opinion of the entrants than the first five did on Tuesday. Whenever possible out-of-town guests are invited to do the judging in order to avoid partiality on the part of a local judge who may know one of the contestants.

Jacqueline Renee who won first honors Tuesday was sponsored by Chuck Walters, men's haberdashery in Palm Springs. However, a girl does not need to be sponsored and may enter on her own behalf. Girls between the ages of 16 and 28 are invited to compete. They may be married, single, an amateur or professional.

All that is asked is that those who desire to enter be in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, May 24.

Valuable prizes were handed out to the first three winners by the Chi Chi on Tuesday and the same will occur on Thursday. In addition The Plaza Jewelers, owned by Ben Zeisel, will give a complete set of costume jewelry to match the gown that will be presented to Miss Palm Springs by the salon of Dorothy Gray and the Chi Chi.

Convicts Quizzed in Prison Riot

RAIFORD, Fla. — Prison authorities began questioning dozens of convicts one by one today in a search for ringleaders of a riot that ended in a 15-second fusillade of gunfire from guards.

The volley, fired at 50-foot range into a band of some 75 charging convicts armed with baseball bats and pop bottles, left one prisoner dead and 11 wounded, two of them critically.

A Negro trusty told newsmen the trouble had been "brewing for a couple of days" over "too many beans" in the daily fare.

THE ONE THING that hasn't happened before in Palm Springs did this morning. Red Kenyon attempted to move a second hand swimming pool and was cited by Officer Bob Flavin, above, for obstructing traffic. The pool came from the Braemar

Swim Pool Sallies Down Village Main Drag Until Law Muscles In

Sooner or later it was bound to happen, and it did right here in Palm Springs where anything can and does happen.

One of the local gendarmes cited Red Kenyon for obstructing traffic, which is not an uncommon offense, like stalling your automobile on purpose on a busy weekend right in the middle of Palm Canyon Drive.

But this citation had nothing to do with such a mundane incident.

Canyon was cited for moving a swimming pool. Not one in which little tots play, but the full-size, big-boy model.

But before Kenyon hoisted the pool out of its pit, he emptied it, only then lifting it by a crane. Obviously he figured this would prevent a possible flood rolling

Scientists Also Irked at Many H-Test Delays

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY AT SEA, Friday — When he got the word of the latest bombproof postponement, a semi-scientific type aboard this ship growled: "Nuts—to the 12th power."

Others in the observer group of 15 newsmen and 16 Civil Defense officials were grateful for this educated expression of their deep disgust.

These unofficial observers came to these undistinguished looking coral atolls May 4 to see America's first big H-bomb air drop at Bikini.

But wrong way winds have blocked the shot daily since May 8. Once the operation was less than two hours from detonation time. Another time the scheduled shot was only 51 minutes away when a wind shift forced cancellation.

That was this morning. Now the shot is set for Sunday morning Saturday afternoon. EDT and that doesn't look too promising.

Most of the observers had expected to be home or well on their way by May 11, so the latest postponement did not cause any great outpouring of gaiety.

Know Dictionary, Advises Winner

WASHINGTON — Melody Sachko, 13-year-old $1000 first prize winner in the 1956 National Spelling Bee, today gave this simple advice for future hopefuls today: Memorize the dictionary.

The slim, brown-eyed girl from Pittsburgh, Pa., has been at it for two years. For the past year she has been concentrating on a two-volume number that she won in a Pennsylvania contest.

down Palm Canyon Drive.

When Officer Bob Flavin moved into the scene at Tahquitz Drive, he rubbed his eyes incredulously and muttered:

By then drivers were stopping to stare, thereby gumming traffic. Whereupon it became police duty to do something about it.

"It's my second-hand swimming pool and I sold it," Kenyon explained to Officer Flavin. "Now all I'm doing is moving the pool to the new location. Anything wrong with that?"

"Yes, sir," replied the baffled officer, "sign this citation and move the pool back on that empty lot." Kenyon did.

Plaques of appreciation were presented to press and radio representatives present for their cooperation during the past year.

Among those present were past presidents Jim Hadlock, who is now in San Diego; Dr. Robert Backstrom, Bill Foster, Ted McKinney and Ed Hawkins.

State Discloses $500,000,000 Building Program

SACRAMENTO — The Department of Finance today took the wraps off a proposed five-year plan to construct nearly half a billion dollars worth of new state buildings.

About half the total, or $201.5 million, would go for state colleges and $75.7 million would go to the University of California. Another $100.9 million would be spent for mental hospitals; $25.5 million for adult prison facilities and $13 million for Youth Authority installations.

John M. Pierce, finance director, said the total program of $447.9 million would be financed with current revenues and a $200 million bond issue to be voted on in the November general election. He noted the 1956 Legislature already has approved $81 million for construction.

Strike Threatens Valley Sugar Flow

CARLTON — A possible strike of sugar workers next month threatens to interrupt the flow of Imperial Valley beets to manufacturers throughout the state, a Holy Sugar Co. official says.

Harry Henderson, superintendent of the Holly plant here, said talks between the manufacturers and representatives of the United Sugar Workers Union have reached a stalemate. The union has threatened to strike.

Soviets are Told 34-Year Secret: Lenin Disowned Stalin on Deathbed

MOSCOW — The Soviet government revealed to the Soviet people for the first time today that V. I. Lenin on his death bed disowned Josef Stalin.

The Soviet youth newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda ripped away a 34-year-old veil of secrecy and disclosed to the people of this country the story other peoples had known, but which Stalin had stifled within the Soviet Union.

It was that the dying Lenin warned that Stalin was a "rude" power-seeker ruled by hastiness, impulsiveness and resentment. Lenin made his charges in two harsh last letters which have become known in published form abroad as Lenin's "Political Testament."

These last letters even proposed that a way be found to remove Stalin from the position of Communist party secretary and to appoint a man more patient, more

Riverside Cities Back Sales Tax Excluding County

Representatives of county cities voted last night at Banning to form a permanent organization, to be known as the League of Cities of Riverside County, and in their first official action drafted a resolution on sales tax recommendations to be presented at the May 23 meeting of the county supervisors.

The resolution asks the supervisors to enact sales tax legislation which will make the tax county-wide, but which will not give the county any share of the city's income. Supervisors previously have requested that the cities share their receipts with the county.

Represented at the meeting were all cities except Blythe. Attending from Palm Springs were Councilman Jerry Sanborn, City Manager R. W. Peterson, City Attorney Jerry Bunker, and Director of Finance Shelby Langford.

Ulrich Voris of Riverside was elected chairman of the organization. A committee was named to work on by-laws.

Jeweler Guest In Wichita Reports Theft from Hotel

WICHITA, Kan. — Diamonds valued at $100,000 disappeared today from the guest vault of a downtown Wichita hotel, police reported.

Detective Bill Klepper said the gems were the property of Nate Pevsner, 56, Chicago, identified as an independent wholesale jeweler.

Klepper said Pevsner reported he placed the diamonds, contained in a brief case, in the vault at the Hotel Lassen.

When it was discovered they were missing, police began a search for a man who registered at the hotel today, entered the vault at his request to deposit a brief case there, and later was seen leaving the hotel and carrying two brief cases.

Mrs. Bobo Files to Tie Up All His Fiscal Assets

SAN FRANCISCO — Mrs. Carl Bobo Olson, estranged wife of the fighter seeking to regain the world middleweight crown tonight in Los Angeles, today filed a series of court actions aimed at tying up all of the fighter's past, present and future financial assets.

At the same time, Mrs. Olson moved to dismiss her original suit for divorce, filed earlier this year, and asked instead for separate maintenance and support for herself and their four children.

In November, 1955, Mrs. Olson filed suit for divorce, charging extreme cruelty. She asked for a "fair share" of the community property, estimated at $200,000.

After the divorce suit was filed it was revealed that Olson was the father of another four children by another woman living in the same neighborhood.

Car Crash Fires House Gas Meter

A brief but intense fire destroyed an automobile at 435 Marcus Road early today.

James Ashenbach, American Legion employee, when returning home at 1:30 a.m., apparently cut a corner too sharply and struck the gas meter on the side of his home. The hot motor or a spark ignited the escaping gas. Fire Captain Chet Goff said the blaze was so intense it brought the front bumper to a white heat.

He said that the car could not be pulled out of the fire until crews arrived to cut off the gas, else flames would have leaped into the air and probably destroyed the home. The meter pipe had jammed under the car and was caught on the bumper. Estimated damage to the car was $600.

Rome Acclaims The Trumans

ROME — Former President Harry S. Truman was given a rousing welcome in Rome today. A crowd of some 400 gathered at the railroad station to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Truman on their arrival from Paris.

Shouts of "We Want Harry" and "Viva Truman" greeted the former President as he started to step from the train.

Police had difficulty keeping the crowd under control to make a path for the Trumans through the station.

Road Funds for Village Route Voted

Six-Foot Shoulders Planned From Here To 74 Junction

The California Highway Commission today voted $36,000 for the construction of six-foot shoulders on each side of State Sign Route 111 between the junction of State Sign Route 74 (Idyllwild turnoff) and the beginning of the divided highway in Palm Springs. C. V. Kane, district engineer in San Bernardino, announced today.

The Desert Sun and Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce have urged improvements of the highway to reduce accidents.

The construction will be for a distance of 8.6 miles and will cover the areas where no shoulders are now in existence with the exception of the vicinity of Palm Canyon Wash which will be improved at the same time that the bridge is built at this location.

All construction work will be completed on one side of the roadway, except for the seal coat, before work is begun on the other side, so that there will be as little interference with traffic as possible, Kane said.

The addition of these shoulders should reduce the single car type of accident caused by cars being driven off the roadway, he added. It is planned to advertise this project at the earliest possible time so that this improvement can be made this summer.

This is the third construction project on State Sign Route 111 to be scheduled for construction this year, the first being the improvement between Indian Trail and Ramon Road including the widening of the Tahquitz Creek Bridge and the second the building of the bridge and approaches at Palm Canyon Wash.

Surplus Stirs Tax Cut Talk

WASHINGTON — Official forecasts of an expanded government surplus this year today stirred cautious new talk in Congress of a tax cut.

Considerable sentiment developed also for a payment on the national debt instead.

Separate estimates of the surplus came from congressional staff experts and the Treasury. The congressional group said the government will wind up the fiscal year $2.3 billion in the clear. The Treasury forecast a year-end surplus of $1.8 billion.

Both forecasts ran sharply above President Eisenhower's January estimate of $230 million.

Bulletins

A Marine F9F6 Cougar jet crashed into the Chocolate mountain bombing range, about 20 miles northeast of Thermal at 10:20 a.m. today. It was in a transonic dive when the accident occurred.

The pilot was not seen to eject and was reported missing. Name of the pilot is being withheld pending notification of the next of kin.

An investigation as to the cause of the crash was begun immediately by Marine officials.

The pilot, a member of Marine Fighter Squadron 115 based at the El Toro Marine Corp Air Station was on temporary duty with Marine Instrument Training Squadron 10, which is conducting routine training exercises from El Centro Naval Auxiliary Air Station.

Cochran Calls for Firm U.S. Foreign Policy

"I believe that peace will result from a firm foreign policy that leads rather than follows and that accepts our responsibilities of world leadership," was the opinion expressed yesterday by Jacqueline Cochran Odum, candidate to congress from the 29th District, who will spend Monday in Palm Springs.

Mrs. Odum, a ranch owner in the Coachella Valley and resident of this area for over 20 years, said she believed such a foreign policy would win the United States the respect of the rest of the world.

The candidate, who has visited many countries of the world, both as a private citizen and in official capacities with the U. S. Air Force, said she felt the United States must have a program that included the maintenance of a strong system of defense bases abroad, which, she says are essential to the safety of this country.

"I am against a 'blank check' type of foreign aid," she said, "but believe we must have a realistic program that will strengthen our allies against the Communism of Russia and China and the Neutrality as represented by India."

"I am against any 'ism' except 'Americanism' whether it be Communism, Neutrality or One World Federalism," the candidate stated. She said she would oppose the surrender of American sovereignty to any scheme of world government and stated: "I believe treaties should be entered into only under and subject to our constitution."

Air Reservists to Start Series of Shoots Sunday

Palm Springs Flight B of the 9388th Air Reserve Squadron, Air Force Reserve, will hold the first of a series of competitive 45 caliber pistol shooting at 11 a.m., Sunday as a result of increased training activities, according to Capt. Hal Waltz, public information officer.

The Palm Springs Police range East Alejo Road will be used through the cooperation of Police Chief August G. Kettmann. Representing the Air Reserve Center at El Centro and supervising the shooting will be Sgt. James Johnson, liaison non-commissioned officer from the 9388th squadron headquarters.

The following officers from this area will compete:

Lt. Col. James R. Ketchersid, commander; Majors Robert I. Coates and Tom Kieley; Capt. Bruce Baird, D. E. Goudry, Vincent B. Karpinski, John Mangini, Joseph P. Polst, Chester E. Sproule and Hal Waltz; First Lts. Benjamin F. Constantino, Samuel D. Hinkle and Donald C. Miller.

Speed Too Fast for Conditions Causes Accidents

Speed too fast for conditions is the leading or contributing factor in almost every traffic accident. This statement made by the California Highway Patrol is based on the analysis of the 1955 traffic toll in California.

"Each added mile per hour of speed not only makes a crash more likely, in that it affects the driver's control, but makes the crash more severe," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "This is elementary. If more realism is required, we can look at the fact that practically every traffic accident occurs when the driver or drivers involved cannot stop in time to avoid a collision."

Too many drivers forget that a vehicle traveling 55 miles an hour is traveling 81 feet per second and requires time and space to stop," Caldwell said. "Quite frequently the stated cause of an accident may be running a stop sign or traffic light, violation of a right-of-way or following too closely. In almost every case the main contributing factor is excessive speed."

Speed zones and limits are determined on the basis of reasonable safety. Deviations, even under normal conditions, create accident situations," he continued. "It is easy to exceed safe speeds with our modern cars. Keeping them down to speeds within safe limits is the legal responsibility of the drivers."

Barkeep Knows How to Paralyze Goats Too

CHICAGO (AP) — Tavern owner James Verros knew exactly what to do when an 180-pound mountain goat wandered into his tavern and nearly startled some of his customers into going on the wagon.

Verros cornered the animal and temporarily paralyzed it by applying pressure on its neck. Verros is an ex-goatherder from Greece.

Fire Damages Auto Interior

Fire damaged the interior of a car yesterday afternoon, being extinguished by the local department. Damage was estimated at $50. The car, owned by Townner Jaggi, was parked in front of 1001 South Palm Canyon Drive.

Birth Control and Population Problem
(The Asheville Times, Asheville, N. C.)

From a long range point of view — say several generations from now — what is our world's most serious practical problem?

Within the last few days the newspapers of America published two unrelated news stories which, if considered together, might suggest a likely answer to that question.

The first of those news stories came from Minneapolis where the General Conference of the Methodist Church sanctioned birth control without a dissenting vote. The resolution read: "We believe that planned parenthood practiced in Christian conscience, may fulfill rather than violate the will of God." One of the conference leaders explained that the church approval of the birth control position would help counteract efforts to brand it anti-religious.

The second of the new stories was from New York which gave the latest United Nations figures on the growth of the world's population. This report gives the earth's present total population as 2,652,000,000 — with 37,000,000 being added each year and the rate of increase steadily going up.

Throughout recorded history frequent wars, famine and disease have served to keep the human population of the world pretty well under control. But even with the colossal amount of killings of the two World Wars and the Korean War, which middle-aged people today well remember, the earth's population has increased much more in the last two generations than in any previous like period. That is because disease control, medical care and food production, although still grossly inadequate for human needs, have been getting better and more general at an increasingly rapid rate.

The No. 1 objective of civilization now is to eliminate war, especially the global variety. The odds today seem to be in favor of no more world wars for the simple reason that the techniques and machines of mass destruction have already been developed to the point where there could be nothing remotely resembling "victory" for any side and even mere survival would be doubtful.

Within the last decade or so the average life-span of the human race has been substantially advanced. The progress of medical science in this field continues to be sensational. The quality and quantity of food supplies are constantly being increased all over the world.

Every factor favorable for the rapid increase of the human population on this planet seems to be getting stronger at an accelerating rate — all of them, that is, save one. The exception, of course, is that the size of our world remains the same. It is obvious that if human beings continue to multiply even at the current rate they will run out of real estate in another century or so.

This newspaper will not take part in any argument over the religious aspects of the birth control question. We mention the action of the Methodist Conference because of its timely significance in the context of our world's many pressing problems.

There is a school of thought, in this and other countries, which holds that this planet's No. 1 practical problem today is population control. Books and other publications dealing with this subject are increasing in number and circulation.

Perhaps the best thing about this problem is that generations now living are not compelled to solve it in order to survive. But a civilized society interested in the future of mankind should not ignore it altogether.

The Desert Mark Twain

By PAUL B. HUBBARD
The Indian Wells Independent Times-Herald

Harry Oliver, of Desert Rat Scrapbook fame, is due congratulations this month. His unique quarterly publication became ten years old April 4th.

Harry's pattern for the Scrapbook has remained scrupulously consistent with his original vows . . . it still sells for only one measly thin dime (he refuses to raise the price as long as Bull Durham is five cents per bag), it is still the smallest newspaper in the world, and the only one with five pages. Printed on heavy butcher paper it is the only one you can open and read in the wind and he adds, "This is one newspaper people borrow for reading purposes only."

During the ten years, Harry journalistic efforts have received publicity in almost every national publication. They have won him thousands of friends throughout the Desert Southwest, and his witty glorification of the desert prospector, his burro and pack-rats has made desert living more livable. By the same token, I am sure that not too many of those measly thin dimes got on the profit side of the Desert Rat Scrapbook ledger.

Regardless . . . he and the Scrapbook have been a big success. He enjoys compiling it, his subscribers enjoy reading it and his printers (sometimes us) enjoy printing it. Happy Birthday to the Mark Twain of the Great American Desert.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

HOLLYWOOD —

Montgomery Clift's room at Cedars of Lebanon looks like a greenhouse. Biggest bouquet is from Libby Holman . . . How did Monty's auto accident really happen? He blacked out from sheer exhaustion, that's all. He had been working 14 hours a day or more in "Rain-tree County," and had not wanted to go to Liz Taylor's house that night for dinner but Liz and her husband, Mike Wilding, prevailed upon him to come anyway . . . Liz managed to crawl into the wreckage and hold Monty's head in her lap, comforting him till the ambulance came, a whole hour after the accident . . . Dr. Rexford Kennamer, Monty's physician, tells me the actor will be up and around in a week or 10 days, so that "Rain-tree" should resume shooting in two weeks; meanwhile, M-G-M is in the hole at least $200,000, what with mounting labor costs, etc. during the shutdown . . . Monty lost two lower teeth and is wearing plugs in his nose to restore its shape.

Music Corp. of America, Mario Lanza's agent, is threatening to sue Warners for calling off Mario's next picture, "Golden Voice." Studio claims the box-office returns on "Serenade" do not warrant making another Lanza movie . . . At his birthday party, Liberace screened his Warner movie, "Sincerely Yours" . . . In order to get foreign distribution rights to "Okla-homa!" RKO advanced the Producers of the movie $2,000,000 . . . Pat and Pete Lawford are expecting another child in August . . . A news item asked Debra Paget, who hates to be questioned about her romances, "What kind of dates do you prefer?" Debra replied, "Stuffed."

SORRY THERE wasn't time on my City of Hope portion of the Ed Sullivan show last Sunday to introduce all those who gave up a beautiful sunny California day to come to the Mother-of-the-Year party at the Beverly Hills Hotel, and then weren't even picked up by the camera. Among those Bob Young and I didn't have time to announce as being present were Esther Williams, Maureen O'Hara, Arlene Dahl, Fernando Lamas, Dick Powell, Cobina Wright, Harry James and Johnny Green. Thanks, you nice people, for giving of your time and talents so generously for this cancer research cause . . . Françoise Rosay, the French star who stood out so brilliantly as the concert pianist in "Quartet," joins Eleanor Parker in "The Painted Veil" . . . Clark Gable himself thought up the title for his next movie, "The King and Four Queens."

Minta Durfee Arbuckle, Fatty Arbuckle's widow, who made movies with Buster Keaton back in 1915, will join Donald O'Connor at Paramount in "The Buster Keaton Story" . . . Greg Bautzer should get some rest before he marries Dana Wynter. The guy looks beat . . . John Wayne is ducking the father-of-the-bride pangs via his current personal appearance tour. He'll return to Hollywood just 84 hours before his daughter's wedding May 26, smart feller.

TV TOPICS

George Gobel is filling his pen to sign for a midsummer nitery turn at the new Frontier in Las Vegas . . . Walt Disney's "Mickey Mouse Club" will put more emphasis on personalities next season and give the mouseketeer moppets a lot more solos, duets and trios to perform. None of the current troupe is from the national talent search being conducted by Disney but future additions undoubtedly will come from this source — and the search may eventually even go International.

Producer Hilliard Marks, Director Ralph Levy and two writers planned out with Jack Benny for three months in Europe, during which time they'll film four CBS-TV shows for next season's Lucky Strike Series. Mary Livingston and Mrs. Marks will join them in London, where Jack will do a BBC show . . . Red Skelton says one of his teenage nieces finally stopped thinking solely of boys. Now she thinks solely of men.

The Stinger on the Busy Bee

THIS SIDE of The Sun
By Phat

Yes, things long discussed and strongly urged for Palm Springs and surrounding area, are really coming to pass these days.

As recited here this week—that Araby Point bridge, widening of the Tahquitz Creek bridge and South Palm Canyon Drive, an entry in the Rose Tournament parade and many other items long advocated are, or will soon be, realized.

And a kind reader called my attention to another project, topic of much conversation around these parts for years. Which will also soon be a reality.

THIS WEEK, she said, that Banning Bottleneck will practically be eliminated.

One lane of the new Freeway through Banning to relieve the congestion on Ramsey street, their main thoroughfare, will be opened.

That alone will take considerable stress off through traffic. And by the time the new season rolls around, the complete freeway will have been in use for some months.

Villagers and visitors can recall the terrific traffic jams in Banning during times of big events on the desert, the County Fair, wild flowers on the desert, Desert Circus and days of extraordinary happenings in Palm Springs.

These traffic jams will be just a memory soon.

ONE OF THOSE THINGS which happens to the best of newspapers happened to The Sun Wednesday. Through a chain of circumstances and coincidences, the wrong caption went under the right picture.

And a Cathedral City Little League baseball team found itself labeled as a girl's society. Three of the girls' group came in to protest.

"Our names under a picture of a bunch of grubby boys!" they complained.

Kenneth Brott who listened to them, had the soft answer which turneth away wrath. "How about the boys? They probably are more sore than you to see their picture in the paper with girls' names underneath."

THERE ARE TWO business firms in town within a few feet from each other in the same block. The proprietors are firm friends.

But from what happened yesterday, you'd think they weren't on speaking terms.

One of them had a comment to make to the other. So he wrote a letter which he mailed special delivery and which his friend got the next morning.

Now, despite the speedy mail service of which Merritt Williams is justly proud, the writer could have put over his message hours earlier by walking some 50 feet. And saved 25 cents.

ACCORDING to newspaper dispatches, the day is coming when earthquakes will be forecast, like the weather. Both as to when and how strong.

Which reminds me that Mother Nature is doing us wrong. It used to be that when some visitor from the East exclaimed, "Oh, I wouldn't live in California with all of those awful earthquakes," we came back smugly: "Well, I wouldn't want to live back there with all of those terrible tornadoes."

And look what happened this Spring! Three tornadoes in the southland, Chula Vista, Alhambra and Ontario. Just isn't fair.

Duties of Assessor

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another of the series of stories prepared by the State Association of County Assessors of California describing the duties of your assessor and services available to you through his office. It is being presented by The Desert Sun because of reassessments made in this area and in other parts of Riverside county.

Although the assessor of your county is charged with the assessment of your county for tax purposes, the value of property is actually established by you, the taxpayers, as buyers and sellers. The assessor does not make value, he follows value.

This is especially true in business and industrial land and, to a great extent, agricultural land. The reason underlying the increasing values in California, of course, is the phenomenal population growth and industry which overnight has turned vacant land into valuable residential and industrial areas.

So, when the assessor makes his annual assessment roll based on full cash value, he must take into consideration the price, and therefore, the value that the people establish when they buy and sell property.

In the assessment of buildings, continuous, careful study is made of the actual cost of construction, not only through talking with contractors and realtors but also by checking this information with nationally recognized indices.

In assessing agricultural land, soil classification, water availability, frost conditions as well as the price paid by the taxpayer are taken into consideration.

These methods are approved by the Department of Agriculture, the Federal Land Bank and by the State and National Association of County Assessors. Use of these methods lets the agricultural land owner compare his assessments with similar land throughout the county. Local conditions such as proximity of the property to markets, good roads, schools and other local facilities are factors that have a bearing on property values.

Unit foot values are established in the assessment of urban lands. A unit foot is one foot fronting on a street and 100 feet deep. Where lots are more or less than 100 feet deep adjustments are made in arriving at the assessed valuation.

In business and industrial areas the assessor uses a capitalization of income as an additional factor in arriving at the value on this type of property. Because this latter procedure has been established through court ruling, you can be assured that your assessor is not going to attempt a haphazard estimate of values but will carefully weigh and analyze all information and data affecting that property. Failure to take all of the above factors into consideration would lead to costly litigation for the county.

The tax laws of California classify property in four separate categories, i.e., (1) land (2) improvements (including all structures such as buildings, fences and trees) (3) personal property, and (4) personal property. In the assessment of the first two classes, because of the fixed nature of this property, the tax becomes a lien on the property itself. If the owner sells without paying the tax, the new owner is responsible for the delinquency.

The assessor faces many problems in making assessments of personal property, because household goods, farm implements, tools and other equipment have a fairly fixed market value when new. However, each owner treats his personal property differently. Some depreciates more rapidly than others. Therefore, the judgment of the assessor must govern the ultimate assessed value.

The state law requires each person who owns personal property to file with the county assessor a list of all property he owns, possesses or has in his control at noon on the first Monday of March. The assessor assists the property owners by having a deputy available to help in the property declaration and the assessor has the responsibility of placing a value on property within his jurisdiction throughout the year.

(The last of this series tells of the sources of revenue that supply funds to meet governmental expenses.)

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

Satellite Launching

WASHINGTON—The first earth circling satellite will be Russian, and it may be launched late this year.

Earliest likely appearance of a U.S. satellite is July 1957. On President Eisenhower's direct orders, this project is now on a "crash" basis with a December 1957 deadline.

This significant information has been disclosed to congressional authorities by two leading participants in this history-making undertaking. They are Admiral Rawson Bennett, director of Navy research, and Dr. Armand N. Spitz, distinguished astronomer, who is in charge of "tracking" all satellites while they circle the globe.

Admiral Bennett told congressional leaders that "Project Vanguard" will cost more than triple original estimates — $70,000,000 instead of $20,000,000.

Two reasons are responsible for this big difference: (1) Putting the project on a "crash" basis to speed it up; (2) certain technical complexities that are proving a great deal more difficult and expensive to solve than was anticipated. Both factors necessitated asking Congress for a lot more money.

"Why is a 'crash' program necessary?" inquired Representative George Andrews (D-Ala.). "President Eisenhower has given us a deadline," explained Admiral Bennett. "The satellite must be in the orbit by December 1957. The only way this deadline can be met is by a 'crash' program."

"Will Russia beat us in this field?"

"That's what they say," replied Bennett. "They have announced they will have a satellite before we do, and they may well do it. We know they are doing their utmost on this."

The Soviet's most noted scientists are working on the satellite project. They include Dr. Peter Kapitza, world-renowned physicist, and Professor Leonid I. Sedov, who headed the Russian delegation to the International Astronautical Congress in Copenhagen.

At this meeting, Sedov confidently asserted the Soviet satellite "will be first and much larger than the American."

This claim has been confirmed, in effect, by Dr. Spitz. It has also been indicated that if this happens, the U.S. will conduct comprehensive observations of the Russian satellite. Extensive preparations for that are under Dr. Spitz's direction.

It is expected the Soviet is doing the same regarding the U.S. satellite.

NOTE: All the satellites are part of the world-wide research program of the International Geophysical Year, starting July 1, 1957 and running to December 31, 1958. Forty nations are participating in this unique study of the physics of the earth and its celestial orbit.

HOW IT HAPPENED — That luxurious Conrad Hilton hotel in Istanbul, whose fanfare opening was attended by plane-loads of notables from many countries, was completed by a bank loan that was guaranteed by the U.S. Government.

This was done under the foreign aid program, and is the only project of its kind in the history of the program.

This piece of inside information was brought to light by Representative Marguerite Church (R-Ill.) at a private meeting of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The Committee is deliberating President Eisenhower's proposed $4,800,000,000 budget for foreign aid, and members have been digging into expenditures under previous funds. That's how Mrs. Church uncovered the government's guaranteed bank loan for the Hilton Hotel in Turkey.

Unless edited out of the transcript of the private meeting, this testimony will be published later. Meanwhile, the highlights of Mrs. Church's "scoop" are as follows:

Total of the loan is $1,049,000. It was made by the Bank of America, after being guaranteed by the International Cooperation Administration, the agency that administers foreign aid. The money was needed to complete the hotel, whose cost exceeded estimates.

"How did the Bank of America come into this picture?" asked Mrs. Church.

"The facts, very briefly, are that the cost of this project, as often happens, proved to be in excess of estimates," explained Charles Houston, head of the investment guarantees staff of ICA. "So additional money had to be located. The Bank of America was willing to make the needed $1,049,000 loan to complete the hotel, if the transaction was covered by one of our guarantees. That was done."

"This follows a somewhat different pattern from the other guarantees you have reported to us," pointed out Mrs. Church. "The other guarantees are to industrial concerns."

"Yes, that is so," said Houston. "This is the only case of its particular kind."

"And you had no question about the wisdom or propriety of doing this?" continued Mrs. Church. "You think it was all right to guarantee this kind of a loan?"

"We were faced with what was a project of considerable importance to Turkey, a strong and valuable ally of ours and the West," declared Houston. "A lot of capital was already tied up in this venture, which stood in the unhappy position of being forced to remain unfinished for lack of $1,000,000. For these reasons we deemed it appropriate to support the financing of this balance."

EARL WILSON:

Pretty Gal in a Fire Wagon

NEW YORK—"I'll pick you up in my fire wagon about 11:30," Miss Russell Lee of Charlottesville, Va., and York, Me., said over the phone.

And a red hook-and-ladder pumper arrived with a pretty blond girl in a fireman's helmet at the wheel.

"My petticoats get in the way," Miss Lee complained, shifting gears.

I sat beside her, enjoying the envious stares of other men, as we clanged downtown and chugged to a stop in front of the Hampshire House.

Hollywood producer Bob Goldstein and Broadway writer Irving Hoffman had been waiting. When the doorman had asked them a minute before, "Do you want a taxi?" they puzzled him somewhat by replying:

"No, thanks. We're waiting for our fire wagon."

These gentlemen now swung aboard and we snorted off toward Max Asnas' Stage Delicatessen and Lindy's. At the Delicatessen we put out several cases of heartburn. Goldstein suddenly said after a few blocks: "Take me to 88th and Park."

"Why?" we asked.

"That's the address of my psychiatrist," he explained.

Miss Lee, our fire lassie, was proving that an out-of-town gal can exist amusingly in New York.

She lived two weeks in a 14th Street store window. She also lived with 300 turkeys in a CBS warehouse for several nights, and the things she could tell you about turkeys! Miss Lee is a female Jim Moran.

The fire wagon—which is authentic—belongs to Holiday Magazine, and is to be given as first prize in a contest among ad agency people who are trying to figure out which ad executives look like their baby pictures. "You mean," said Hollywood visitor Goldstein, "they're putting up all those beautiful buildings for people to sit in and think up screwy ideas like that?"

Miss Lee nodded. She had to get a special license to pilot the pumper. It has a siren which she uses reluctantly.

"The fire department said it's all right once in a while but not to let myself get carried away."

Miss Lee, a 1950 graduate of the University of Virginia, who taught high school history for a year, hopes to become a TV actress. I forgot to tell you she also carries one of those baby fire extinguishers and recently lit a match to a $10,000 bill and then put out the fire. Honest!

with Hildy Crawford

Writing about Palm Springs . . . its mountains and desert . . . and the beauty of this sunny desert town . . . it is difficult not to get lyrical . . . and it seems strange that the years have not produced a smash hit Palm Springs song . . . Not until this week, anyway . . . when Ted Grouya's "Palm Springs Polka" gets its premiere . . . It is what we have been waiting for . . . rollicking music by the man who wrote "Flamingo" . . . and lyrics by Paul Herrick that blend the gaiety and charm of Palm Springs . . . It will be played by the Page Kavanagh Trio tomorrow night at 11 on the KNX "Words About Music" show . . . along with a medley of Grouya's song hits . . . including "Flamingo," "In My Arms," "I Heard You Cry Last Night" and "Since You Went Away" . . .

The lyrics have little gems like "to see the stars fall like a fountain, Through the moonlight on the mountain . . . Just do the Palm Springs Polka . . . There's nothing missing on the desert . . . and if some kissing on the desert is the one thing that you really want to try . . . Just do the Palm Springs Polka . . . and you will dance into romance the same as I" . . . and this one "If you would like to ride a pinto up the side of San Jacinto . . . Just to touch the stars as they go sailing by . . . Just do the Palm Springs Polka . . . and ride the lover's trail to heaven in the sky" . . . It takes someone who loves the desert to write about it like that . . . and both Grouya and Herrick live in the Village . . .

The Ed Robbins made quite a cavalcade when they left Tuesday Reno-bound for the summer . . . Bertha was driving her new pale blue Continental . . . Ed drove the station wagon . . . and Bertha's son Jerry Treacy drove a pickup . . . The Robbins will summer at their home in Reno . . . returning here in the fall . . .

Florence and Harold Murphy arrived back in the Village late Tuesday night . . . home after a wonderful around-the-world cruise . . . They picked up a station wagon in New Jersey and drove to Detroit, where Florence took delivery on her new pink Cadillac . . . and they drove both cars across country . . .

The Murphys are living in their house at 415 Patencio Lane . . . which they purchased from Waters, before they left on their trip. . . .

Jeri and Tom Hull are down for a few days in the sun . . . and occupying the Marion Hicks' house on Deepwell Road . . . Jeri is just back from New York where she visited her sister . . . and saw all the new shows . . . She says "Fair Lady" is one of the best musicals of recent years . . .

A cute little "We've Moved" card from Betty and Monte Herbert . . . says "We've put on our shoes and moved to the big city" . . . and the sketch shows the Herberts in desert garb at Palm Springs . . . on one side . . . and the two of them in town wear (with aching feet) sitting outside their apartment house on Sunset Plaza Drive . . . near the Moccambo and the Wilshire Country Club. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Merald Lue of Westport, Connecticut, are vacationing here at the Palm Springs Biltmore. He is vice president of the Reinhold Publishing Corporation of New York City. . . .

Also there are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hamilton (he is with Desilu Productions) of Los Angeles, who have as their guest Mrs. Gladys Cooper of Brentwood. Mrs. Cooper, big game hunter and world traveler (she has been around the world 11 times) has just returned from the Orient. . . .

New York Staters include the Peter Boykoffs of Great Neck, Mr. and Mrs. S. Jay Winterberg of Larchmont, Mr. and Mrs. David A. Travis of Hewlett Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hirschhorn of Harrison (he is one of the builders of the George Washington bridge in New York City), and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greiner of Manhattan. . . .

Woman's Club Board Members Have Luncheon

The board of the Palm Springs Woman's Club set up policies for the coming year when they held a luncheon meeting Tuesday at The 400, with Gayle Burns as hostess. . . .

Luncheon was served on the patio and those enjoying the beautiful day and the feeling of freedom from Club duties for the next five months, were: Woman's Club president Mrs. Glenn Watson and Mmes. Fred Hess, Paul Leathers, Clare Kinne, Claude Freeman, S. P. Manasse, Keith Herbert, Hal Cornelius, Jack Singler, Walter Whittall, Bow Herbert, Don McCauley and the hostess Mrs. Burns. . . .

Decorations and refreshments in the dining room will be under the direction of Mrs. Anne Ellis and her committee. . . .

All members of the Order are invited to attend. . . .

UNWANTED HAIR

Vanished away with Saca-Pole. Saca-Pole is not like ordinary depilatories that remove hair from the surface of the skin but penetrates through the pore and retards the growth of the hair. . . .

"PALM SPRINGS POLKA", the exciting new song by Ted Grouya, who has written so many song hits, was played publicly for the first time by Hal White's Trio at the Ranch Club, following the installation dinner for the Hotel and Apartment Owners Association Wednesday evening. Here the composer, Ted Grouya holds a copy of the song; Clessa Williams Sargent, just completed singing the song; and on the right, Gordon Ayres of the Arthur Murray Studio, studied the danceability of "Palm Springs Polka." The song will be played on KNX tomorrow night at 11, on the "Words About Music" program.

Mrs. Jack Copass and children Dianne and Jackie spent the weekend in Los Angeles with her parents Mr. and Mrs. James Montee. Mr. Montee, who was critically ill last week, is slightly improved. . . .

Stains in the bottom of a tall slender vase can be removed by using tea leaves soaked in vinegar. Drop the moistened leaves into the vase and shake until the ill last week, is slightly improved. . . .

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Navy's "admirals" probably are wishing today that they were back in bigger boats but there is modern inspiration available so they "don't give up the ship."

The "admirals" are the members of the 1952 Navy crew which won the Olympic championship at Helsinki. They drove to victory over Russia four years ago.

But it has been rough sailing since they were recalled as a group in an effort to score another Olympic triumph.

YET THERE IS another rowing group which probably could hearten the "admirals" greatly as the officers strive grimly to recapture their rhythm and condition. That would be the Harvard crew of 1914.

To steal an Army line, if the sailors will pardon the expression, while "old soldiers never die" neither, apparently, do old oarsmen.

For the Harvard crew of 1914, which won the Grand Challenge Cup symbolic of world rowing supremacy at Henley 42 years ago, still is intact to a man.

WHAT'S MORE, they rowed a mile for the fun of it just two years ago and looked exceptional well doing it.

U.S. Senator Leverett Saltonstall, a former governor of Massachusetts, was the bow in that 1914 Harvard boat with Jim Talcott at two; Henry H. Meyer at three; Harry and John Middendorf, four and five; Davis P. Morgan, six; Louis Curtis, seven; Charles C. Lund, stroke, and Henry L. F. Kreger, coxswain.

Eight crews were in the Henley Regatta that July 4 of 1914 and no American shell ever had won the "Grand." Facing Harvard were Leander, the Thames Rowing Club, London Rowing Club, Jesus College of Cambridge, Mayence of Germany, the Union Boat Club of Boston and the Winnipeg Rowing Club of Canada.

ONE MONTH AFTER this friendly competition among Americans, Englishmen, Canadians and Germans, the German army marched into Belgium and the first world war was on.

But that day, the men of the Crimson proved themselves the best—and have been doing so ever since with rowing reunions in 1929, 1939 and 1954. This despite the fact that now they range in age from 61 to 64.

So the "admirals" can take heart and expect to be in good shape before the Olympic trials roll around. Oarsmen, somehow, seem to go that way.

Penn and then Princeton were the "big boats" for a while and then the Olympic sentiment swung to Cornell and Yale. But you can take a tip from those Harvard veterans.

Don't count the "admirals" out, yet.

Desert Rat Play Starts Saturday

Following a pre-tournament meeting at Tamarisk Country Club tonight, play will start tomorrow on the first 18 holes of the fifth annual Desert Rat tournament.

According to Elly Vines, club pro, the entry list will approximate 100 players from the Coachella Valley.

Final 18 hole rounds will be played Sunday.

White Sox Want Pitcher Ditmar
NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago White Sox have wrapped up "an attractive package" and offered it to the Kansas City Athletics for pitcher Art Ditmar, it was learned Friday.

The latest offer for the 27-year-old Kansas City right-hander who posted a 12-12 record last year follows a previous one in which the White Sox were willing to turn over such players as pitchers Harry Byrd and Connie Johnson and infielder Sam Esposito.

Heavyweights Sign
NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweights Sid Peaks and Bert Whitelurst, both of New York, have been signed to meet in a 10-round bout at Sunnyside Gardens, May 24. Whitelurst owns a decision over Tommy Hurricane Jackson.

BRUINS THREATEN USC PCC TRACK SUPREMACY

BERKELEY (AP) — Southern California's stranglehold on the Pacific Coast Conference track and field championships will be tested here Friday and Saturday by the upstart UCLA Bruins.

As the PCC meet opened with preliminaries Friday afternoon, the Bruins were the choice—but not as overwhelmingly so as they have been in the past. Three top men, including shotputter Ray Martin, distance star Fernando Ledesma and sprinter Dick Dorsey have been declared out of competition for the Bruins.

Meanwhile, the Bruins look healthy—and off records posted this season have a chance to win eight first places in the meet. These are Bobby Seaman in the mile; Russ Ellis in the 440, Rafe Johnson, the decathlon champion, in the high and low hurdles and broadjump; Don Vick in the shotput, Ron Drummond in the discus and Nick Dyer in the high jump.

The only first that the Bruins appear to have clinched is in the pole vault, where Ronnie Morris and Walt Levack should finish 1-2. While the Bruins and Bruins duel in the team battle, the feature event will be the mile run on Saturday, in which Oregon's Jim Bailey 3:58.6, and UCLA's Seaman 4:01.5 will engage in a duel that could be the finest in American collegiate history.

Preliminaries will be held in most events Friday afternoon, with the finals slated Saturday. The mile run is set for 2:30.

Mounties Move in Fight to Quit PCL Basement

By DON THACKREY
United Press Sports Writer
The Vancouver Mounties, infant members of the Pacific Coast League, are making noises like they wanted out of the loop basement and the boy scout Los Angeles Angels are willing to help them do it.

The Mounties climbed to within a game of seventh-place Hollywood Thursday night by beating Portland 4-1 to annex their first series. And the Angels, who trounced Sacramento 6-2 for the third straight win and opened up a three-game lead, take on their cross-town St. Louis rivals in the series that opens tonight.

In other games Hollywood whacked, Seattle 12-3 and San Diego neared the first division with a thrilling 1-0 victory over San Francisco.

Dick Droett pitched a seven-hitter for Los Angeles and took over the league strikeout leadership at the same time. He got the help he needed from the bat of Bob Speake, who had a two-run homer in the third, a double and scored three times.

The combination of pitcher John Carmichael and outfielder Floyd Robinson propelled San Diego to within a half game of the first division as they won their series with San Francisco.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The weather and the betting are unsettled for tonight's return middleweight title fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Carl Bobo Olson at Wrigley Field.

From Uncle Sam's bureau came the forecast of "cool, with possible light sprinkles."

And from the Derby Club at Las Vegas, Nev., came news of increased support for Olson that might cause a late switch and send the halidish ex-champ into the ring favored to recapture the 160-pound crown.

"Our man-to-man price favoring Robinson has just dropped from 13-10 to 12-10," said a spokesman at the Derby Club. "And some of our friends in the East are quoting even money. Olson may be favored at ring time."

Thirty-five-year-old Robinson of New York and 27-year-old Olson of San Francisco will start their nationally televised and broadcast 15 rounder at 7 p. m. PDT even if old Jupe Pluvius should be drenching the ballpark of the Los Angeles Angels. The sponsors paid $100,000 for the TV — radio rights, and the show must go on, according to the promoters. The ring will be protected by a canvas canopy.

As the eight box offices opened at Wrigley Field today, directors of the Hollywood American Legion Stadium, who are promoting the fight, estimated the advance sale at $160,000. They were uncertain if the weather would curtail the expected 17,500 fans and $200,000 gate, a record for California.

Although Olson is a three-time loser to Sugar Ray in their trio of previous fights, he is robustly supported for this one because many boxing men believe champion Robinson's ancient legs will tire badly if he's out last more than seven rounds.

The champion has been impressive in training at San Jacinto. He concentrated on keeping his sparmates at a distance with solid left jabs and nailing them with rights when they attempted to flurry. But he was using inferior sparmates.

Olson was less impressive at nearby Santa Monica as he bore into his mates and tried to bring their bodies while cramping their punching room. But he used main event fighters for sparmates.

Three Indians in Top Bracket

Three Palm Springs high school baseball players are in the ranks of the Riverside County League sluggers who have an average in excess of .300.

Skip Martin, with nine safe blows in 23 times at bat, has an average of .391 to top the local contingent. Victor Reyes who has hit safely 10 times in 27 ABs, has .370 and Charlie Brown who has connected nine times in 26 tries, has .346.

Fidel Ochoa of Beaumont leads the RCL with an astronomical .813—13 hits out of 16 ABs.

Coast Conference Expected to Lower Boom on Bruins at Probe Into Gridiron Evils

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — Will the boom be lowered on UCLA's foot ball dynasty?

That was the No. 1 question here today as Pacific Coast Conference officials opened a five-day meeting to consider gridiron evils at member schools.

Here in the quaint, beautiful British Columbia capital city, the speculation is that the PCC is going to kick the Bruins into the dog house with the Washington Huskies.

The case in point is the "confession" signed by George Stephenson, former UCLA football player who signed a statement to the effect that assistant coaches made "secret cash deals" providing that "all players good enough to make the 33 man traveling squad, plus several ineligible as the result of transfers, were given $115 a month for the school year." This, he said, included the $75 the conference allows for campus work but also an additional $40 "under the table" money from a "paymaster" at the downtown Westwood office.

Washington was put on a two-year sports probation and will lose its share of receipts from next two Rose Bowl games following disclosure of a downtown "slush" fund.

Nothing Less than 20 Games is Aim of Spahn, Ace Hurler for Braves

By MILTON RICHMOND
United Press Sports Writer

Southpaw Warren Spahn of Milwaukee insists he will "settle for nothing less than 20 victories this year" and that comes as distinct pennant news to the Braves, who have been forced to settle for a back seat since 1948.

Spahn kept the Braves atop the National League by defeating the Giants, 7-3, Thursday night for his third straight triumph. And he did it in style, too, yielding eight hits and no walks while striking out five, collecting two hits himself and stealing a base.

"I've got my change-up back this year," he said, following the victory, "and my fast ball is more alive than it has been in two years. I missed winning 20 last year but I will settle for nothing less this year."

SPAHN WEAKENED slightly and gave up a two-run homer to Don Mueller in the ninth but the Braves already had clinched the seventh when they routed Ruben Gomez with three singles, Ed Mathew's double and a 440-foot triple by Hank Aaron. Del Crandall homered for Milwaukee in the fourth.

The Braves, aiming for their first pennant in eight years, thus remained 27 percentage points ahead of the second-place St. Louis Cardinals, who defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-4.

THIRD BASEMAN Kenny Boyer and 41-year-old reliever Ellis Kinder were the Cardinal standouts. Boyer collected four hits and increased his batting average to .418 in driving in three of the Cards' runs while Kinder picked up his first victory after relieving Wilmer Mizell in the seventh although he, too, needed relief from Jackie Collum in the ninth.

Catcher Hobie Landrith drove in three runs for Cincinnati in a 4-1 victory that snapped Pittsburgh's four-game winning streak. Russ Meyer was breezing along with a four hitter until the Pirates knocked him out with two more hits in the ninth. Turk Lown re tired the last two batters.

IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE, left hander Whitey Ford chalked up his sixth straight victory while pitching the first-place Yankees to a 10-3 victory over the White Sox. Yogi Berra's 11th homer set off a three-run rally in the second inning and the Yankees finished loser Jack Harshman with a six-run burst in the fourth. The Yankee victory snapped Chicago's six-game winning streak.

Mickey Vernon's three-run homer and Tom Brewer's four-hit pitching led the Red Sox to a 6-1 decision over the Athletics.

Small Field of 8 Expected in Preakness

Needles Favored To Top List Of Select 3-Year-Olds

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Needles, the Kentucky Derby winner, was expected to head a small field of eight three-year-olds when the entry box closed today for Saturday's running of the $100,000 added Preakness Stakes.

At a cost of $500 each, Calumet Farm's Fabius, Dino Lozzi's Count Chic, Mrs. Helen W. Kellogg's Come On Red, Winding Way Farm's Golf Ace, Daniel Arnstein's Eiffel Blue, W. E. Britt's No Regrets, and H. C. Freuhoff's Rotherham also were expected to be named for the second of the Triple Crown classics.

It will cost an additional $500 to start, swelling the value of the 80th running of the Preakness to $131,800 and the value to the winner, if other than Come On Red and Golf Ace, to $22,750. Come On Red and Golf Ace were made supplementary nominations for the Preakness at a cost of $7,500 each, making the net value for them $75,800.

ELDRIDGE

SAYS...
A detailed resume of my position on all things that affect veterans is impossible in this space. However, I want to indicate to the veterans, as well as all the other voters of the 29th Congressional District, my general views.

In the first place, and I'm a veteran myself with 12 years service in the Army during World War II—almost four years overseas, I do not subscribe to the theory that every man or woman who does a uniform in time of war automatically becomes a "hero."

Some of us volunteered, some of us were drafted, some of us went in willingly, some of us were dragged in kicking and screaming. All of us, however, returned home with a faint idea that we won the particular war in question singlehandedly. That's the human race.

I was raised to believe that service in uniform during war is one of the basic obligations of citizenship. If the wisdom of the Federal Government is it is in the national interest for John Doe to serve in the military service, that's all that's to be said. If it is decided that he should work in a factory manufacturing bomb sights, that's all that's to be said.

Adlai Will Get Biggest Test in Oregon Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oregon's Democratic presidential primary provided today the biggest test yet for Adlai E. Stevenson's attempted comeback from his Minnesota defeat by Sen. Estes Kefauver.

It also provided another trial for the write-in vote, which is having a sporadic but growing impact on politics in this country.

Kefauver and Stevenson were matched in today's primary for write-in votes which will bind the state's 16 votes at the Democratic national convention.

Both candidates passed up the chance to put their names on the Oregon ballot and then launched organized campaigns for write-in votes.

Meanwhile Stevenson gained new strength Thursday when the North Carolina state Democratic convention endorsed him for the Democratic nomination. North Carolina's 36-man delegation will go to the national convention unpledged, however.

New York Gov. Averell Harriman, who calls himself a "non-active" candidate for the nomination, ended a tour of six northwestern states Thursday night with an address at Reno, Nev. He accused the administration of "lack of concern" for farmers and small business.

REPORTS REACHING Washington have credited Stevenson forces with setting up a much stronger organization in Oregon, but Kefauver proved in Minnesota that the best organization does not necessarily win.

Since Minnesota, Stevenson has defeated Kefauver in Alaska and District of Columbia primaries. He also polled more write-ins than the Tennessee senator in Massachusetts but trailed the favorite son, House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack, to whom Kefauver had thrown his support.

Kefauver also suffered a serious defeat in New Jersey at the hands of Gov. Robert B. Meyner, who is considered friendly to Stevenson.

AFTER OREGON, the two candidates face still more important primary contests in Florida May 29 and in California June 5.

The Oregon Democratic contest is the second write-in vote to get national attention this year. New Hampshire Republicans gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon about 23,000 votes for renomination at a time when his future was uncertain.

Eisenhower Wins in First Formal Vote on New Soil Bank Farm Bill

By UNITED PRESS
President Eisenhower won a Senate victory today in the first formal vote on the new "soil bank" farm bill.

The Senate approved, 49 to 31, an amendment backed by the administration to authorize sale of 100,000 bushels of surplus low-grade wheat at the price of live-stock feed.

Mr. Eisenhower was less successful on the second vote. The Senate adopted by voice vote a compromise amendment to freeze the parity prices of corn, peanuts and wheat at present levels for another year.

Under present law, parity on the three crops would drop again next year in a shift from old to new parity formulas.

The Senate Agriculture Committee wanted to freeze them at present levels for two more years. The administration opposed any freeze at all.

Leaders hoped to wind up the voting by nightfall. Elsewhere in congress:

CIVIL DEFENSE: Val Peterson, Civil Defense administrator, told a House Government Operations Subcommittee his agency needs more authority to force cities and states to prepare for a hydrogen age war.

He said it has ample power to act after an attack, but can do little more than make plans and circulate information before one occurs.

WAGES: Fruit growers and feed dealers told a Senate Labor Subcommittee that proposals to broaden the coverage of the minimum wage law could tighten the cost-price squeeze on farmers.

They opposed any change in exemptions granted to agriculture food retailers.

The National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters asked an exemption from overtime provisions for employees in

UC Promises Harsh Penalties in Panty Raids

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—University of California officials promised today they will "punish severely" any ringleaders they can identify in a "panty raid" that turned into a rampage by 2,000 students Wednesday.

Dean of Men Hurford E. Stone said police and university officials had decided at a conference Thursday to launch a thorough investigation of the incident in an attempt to fix responsibility.

Police, augmented by student leaders, patrolled the campus and nearby residential areas Thursday night to prevent a renewal of the outbreak.

The incident, described by the campus Daily Californian as a "night of debauchery," started as a water fight between students seeking to cool off on a hot evening. It eventually turned into a rampage in which male students invaded 22 sorority houses, causing an estimated $10,000 damage to furnishings and the personal belongings of girl residents.

Heat and Cold Extremes Level Off Over Nation

By UNITED PRESS
Weather extremes levelled off today, breaking record setting heat waves in the West and cold snaps in the East.

In Southern California, light rains cracked the sizzling heat which sent temperatures as high as 105 earlier this week. Freak winds accompanied the storm Thursday, ripping down trees and power lines in Los Angeles. It was still on the chilly side on the East Coast, but temperatures rose five to 10 degrees above levels which set records Thursday in New York City, Rochester, N.Y., and other cities.

There was rain in the Middle Atlantic Coast states, with Salisbury, Md., getting a 1.03 inch dousing.

Temperatures were also on the cool side in the Middle Mississippi Valley and parts of the Great Lakes area. Chicago registered a nippy 44 degrees early today.

Improvement

GREAT BEND, Kan. (AP)—The response has improved since the Rev. Raymond Knowles replaced "Reserved" and "No Parking" signs in the East Methodist Church lot with signs reading, "Thou Shalt Not Park."
